National Association of Emergency Medical Technician's EMS Safety course teaches students how to protect themselves and their patients while on the job. It promotes a culture of safety and helps reduce the number of on-the-job fatalities and injuries. Its interactive format features real-life case studies and compelling discussions on current safety issues.

EMS Safety is offered as an 8-hour classroom course and is appropriate for all levels of EMS practitioners, other medical professionals providing prehospital patient care, and EMS supervisors and administrators.

EMS Safety is accredited by CAPCE and recognized by NREMT.

More details on the class are available on the NAEMT.org website.
